FOREWORD

I have great pleasure in presenting this Catalogue of Arabic Manuscripts in Tabular Form, which was in the Collections of the Asiatic Society, before the Scholarly World. The project of preparing this Catalogue was undertaken by Shri K M Maitra in 1949. But he could not complete the work. On his death in 1968, the Asiatic Society approached Dr. M. S. Khan, an accredited authority on Islamic Studies in our country, who took up the work of revising and editing the Catalogue, an arduous task, and completed the work. I would like to express our gratitude and thanks to Dr. Khan on behalf of the Asiatic Society. I am sure this volume would be welcomed by the scholars as a valuable guide-book.

PREFACE

This catalogue of Arabic MSS. in the collection of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, is the uncatalogued portion, which were not included in the Descriptive Catalogue of Arabic Manuscripts, prepared by M. Hidāyat Hossain, M. Mahfūzu'l-Haq and M. Ishāque and published as Vol. II in 1949. The project of preparing a catalogue in tabular form was first undertaken by the Government of India in 1956 and the information provided in this catalogue is in accordance with the proforma supplied by it.

Shri K. M. Maitra was appointed in 1949 to catalogue the MSS which he could not complete during the term of his appointment. He could neither revise the catalogue nor prepare its press copy till his retirement in 1961. He died in 1968 and the work of revising and editing the catalogue was entrusted to me.

At first, I thought that the particulars of the MSS recorded by Shri Maitra in the catalogue were correct and I did not consider it necessary to check them with the MSS in each case. At the time of proof-reading, while verifying some statements in the catalogue, which seemed doubtful, with the relevant MSS, I found that it contained many serious errors and there were wide discrepancies between the actual particulars of the MSS and the information recorded. Therefore, I was convinced that the checking of the particulars of all the MSS, was absolutely essential. But it was too late as the printing of the catalogue was already completed. There being no other alternative left for me I decided to check the particulars of each MS by physical verification and publish the errors in the corrigenda. Still, I do not claim that I could succeed in correcting all the errors.

I thought it desirable to divide the catalogue into two volumes. This first volume includes MSS concerning Qur'ān and Qur'ānic Sciences, Ḥadīth literature, Fiqh, 'Aqā'id, Controversy and Polemics, Prayers, Theological treatises, Lexicons, Grammar, Rhetoric, Prosody, and Adab literature. I have provided additional but important information about some authors and their works in the Appendix which could not be included in the catalogue in tabular form.

It does not contain many unique MSS but I consider the following as important for one reason or the other :—

1. Sl. No. 24, Kitāb al-Ikhtiyār (Vol. I) by al-Mawṣilī.
2. Sl. No. 46, Risāla Fiqh on Zaydī Jurisprudence by the Zaydī Imām of Yemen.
3. Sl. No. 60, Kitāb al-As'ilah wa'l-Ajwiba by 'Abdu's-Salām al-'Ukbārī al-Mufīd.
4. Sl. No. 95, Kaṣḥf az-Zunūn by Hājji Khalifah.
5. Sl. No. 118, Jawāhir al-Baḥr of Amīr Khusraw of Delhi.
6. Sl. No. 120, Jāmi' al-Masā'il by Muḥammad aṣ-Ṣāfi.
7. Sl. No. 133, Irtishāf ad-Ḍarab min Lisān al-'Arab by Ibn Ḥayyān al-Gharntāi
8. Sl. No. 158, Commentary on the Qawā'id al-'Arab of Ibn Hishām by Muḥammad bin Sulaymān al-Kāfiyaji.
9. Sl. No. 169, Al-Manhalu's-Ṣāfi, Commentary of Abū Bakr al-Mālikī ad-Damāmīnī on the al-Wāfi by Ibn 'Umar al-Balkhī. 2 vols. Autograph.

And some MSS on the Shaykhī creed.

I should like to thank the members of the Council of the Asiatic Society and specially the members of the Publication Committee for entrusting the work of revising and editing the Catalogue to me. Specially, I offer my thanks to Dr. Amalendu De, the General Secretary, but for whose interest and drive this Catalogue would not have been published now. Thanks are also due to Shri Muḥammad Shahīdullāh of the Department of Arabic and Persian, Calcutta University (Ex-Jt. Philological Secretary of the Society). I have also to thank Shri M. Abdullah of the Calcutta Madrasah and Maulana Azad College, Calcutta and Shri S. Chaudhuri, the Librarian of the Society, who helped me in the verification of the particulars of the MSS and in many other ways.

APPENDIX

by M. S. Khan

Sl. No.	Accn. No.
6	1082 III	This commentary of which the full name is Anwār'ut-Tanzil wa Asrār'ut-Ta'wil is really based on the Kashshāf of the great Mu'tazilite Zamakhshari, but considerably amplified from other sources and it is held in great esteem by Sunni scholars. It was edited and published by H. O. Fleischer in 2 vols. in 1848. See Brockelmann, GAL , I, 530.
10	37 I	This MS contains a brief discussion of the works on the Sciences of Traditions, Jurisprudence and Quranic Exegesis by outstanding authors. There is also an Ijāza (diploma) by the author to his pupil named Muḥammad b. Ibrāhīm b. Muḥammad known as ad-Dikdiki, who is the copyist of this manuscript.
32	851 III	MSS of this work are available at Berlin, 4348-49 ; Gotha, 1024 ; India Office, 221-29. The text has been printed at Lucknow and Calcutta. Vide : Bankipur vol. XIX 1634 ; Brockelmann, GAL , S. II, 329, 571.
37	1096 III	An important work on Muslim Law of Inheritance. It was translated for the first time into English by Sir William Jones. See his works vol. III. London, 1792; Brockelmann, GAL , I, 470.

Sl. No.	Accn. No.
41	856 III	Only two other MSS of this work are known to exist. One is at Berlin No. 1799; and the other is at the India Office Library as mentioned by A. J. Arberry in the JRAS (1939), p. 395. It is a short 'expose' of Islam as a religion from the Shi'ite point of view by a celebrated theologian of the 4th century A. H. who flourished at the court of the Buwayhid ruler Ruknu'd-Dawlah. He did not die in 391/1001 as stated by some biographers.
49	25 III	This MS discusses the Islamic creed according to the Hanafi School and attacks the Mu'tazilites and philosophers. See Hājji Khalifa, II, 423 and 484; Brockelmann, GAL , I, 535.
53	898 III	It contains a popular exposition of the Islamic creed. The text was printed by Cureton in London (1843). There is an English translation of this work by Edger. See Brockelmann, GAL , I 548 and Berlin No. 1955.
64	360 III	It contains a thorough and detailed discussion on Free-will and Predestination in Islam from the point of a Shi'a scholar. The views are in general agreement with those of the Mu'tazillites or the "Rationalists" of Islam.
68	728 III	Its MSS are found at Berlin 5293 and 5296; Bankipur 2405; Brockelmann GAL , S. II, 287.

l. No.	Accn. No.
71	420 I (b)	This is a short polemical work against the extreme Shī'ites , who are called Rawāfid for reviling the first three Caliphs. The author was born at Herat and lived in Mecca. He was a great polygraph. Carl Brockelmann attributed as many as 182 works to his credit. Vide : GAL , II, 517-519. Berlin, 2147.
81	1291 III	It is a book of prayers culled from Qur'ān and Hadīth which is extensively used by devout Muslims as a catechism of repetition i. e. Awrād اوراد Copied with an interlinear Persian translation by M. Kāzīm of Shirāz .
95	1106	A well-known work on bibliography noticing Arabic, Persian and Turkish books known to the author. This work has been edited by G. Flügel with a Latin translation (not French as wrongly asserted by the author of Bankipur Cat. vol. XXI. p. 16). Vide : Brockelmann, GAL , vol. II, 564.
98	113 II	A good MS of a rare Arabic lexicon explained in Persian. It is divided into 28 parts according to the number of Arabic alphabet. For other copies see Bankipur IX. , 819 and recently published handlist of Leiden Manuscripts by Voorhoeve p. 72 ; Brockelmann, GAL , I. 343 and S. I, 505.

Sl. No.	Accn. No.
104	45	The full title is “Al-Qāmūsul-Muḥiṭ wa'l-Qabas al-Wasīṭ al-Jāmi' limā dhahaba min lughat al-‘Arab Shamāṭiṭ, vide Hājjī Khalīfa, vol. IV, 488 ; Brockelmann, GAL, II, 233 ; Berlin, 6972 ; Gotha, 394 and 395 ; Mingana 757.
105	635 I	It is the first voluminous lexicon in the Arabic language written on scientific lines. The various roots are arranged alphabetically under the last radical. This work is of the same epoch-making character as that of Sibawayh's on Arabic Grammar. He is said to have died in a fit of temporary madness by flying into air in 393/1003. Colophon intentionally damaged. Folios 43 R to 106 V transcribed in a different hand.
112	875 I	A short work on words which differ in their meanings due to the vowel points of the first syllable having— a, i, o, u. The present work is a versified version of the same, vide : Brockelmann, GAL, I, 102. II, 410.
114	1115 III	A large lexicon containing words which occur in the six authentic Ḥadīth collections called “الصحيح السنة” and also includes the dedication to Shaykh ‘Alī al-Muttaqī al-Hindī (d 975/1567) who was the author's teacher at Mecca. For other copies see Bankipuri vol. XX., 2001 ; India Office, 1023 ; and British Museum, 1688-89.

Sl. No.	Accn. No.
117	318	A dictionary of scientific, technical, medical and botanical terms compiled from various works of which fourteen are mentioned in the Preface. Several explanations are given in Persian. For other copies see Loth. 1024 ; Ross & Brown, India Office, 208 ; Berlin, 6239; Bankipur, vol. XX, 1998; Mosul, p. 32 ; There is a copy also in the Asiatic Society's Curzon Collection, 903 (First Supplement by Ivanow).
118	698	A short MS of synonyms of Arabic and Persian words. It was compiled on the same lines as the author's more popular work known as خالق باری (Khāliq Bārī) which treats of Persian words with their meanings in Hindi. This small tract has been lithographed with the title Badā'iu'l-'Ajāi'b in a collection entitled (La'ālī 'Ummān) at Aligarh (1336/1918).
127	439 III	For other copies see Berlin, 6559 ff ; Bankipur, vol. XX, 2011. There is a difference about the exact date of the author's death. Cf. Ibn Khallikān , III, 134 ; Brockelmann, GAL , I, 99.
137	201 I	The original text on which this MS is a gloss, was written by Khālid b. 'Abdillāh al-Azhari, who died in 906/1499. See Berlin 6674 and Gotha, 28.

Sl. No.	Accn. No.
143	442	For other copies see Bankipur, 2028 ; Berlin, 6605 ; Gotha, 50 ; India Office, 949 ; Buhar II, 418 ; Vienna, 181. The author was an eminent scholar of Tabriz and one of the pupils of the famous Baydāwī. He says in the Preface that he has steered a middle course in writing his treatise between too much prolixity on the one hand and undue brevity on the other. Brockelmann, GAL II , 246.
152	495	This is shorter of the two commentaries written by the author ; his larger treatise entitled Sharhī'l-Akbar was written in 692/1273. Dedicated to Prince Jalālu'd-Dīn Ibrāhīm b. Yaghrush Bilya of Khotan . Brockelmann, GAL I , 318. For other copies see Berlin, 6565 ; Bankipur, 2049 ; Escorial, 95 ; Buhar II, 423 ; Gotha I, 253 and India Office, No. 912.
153	372	The author was born at Isfirā'in—a town in the district of Nīshāpūr. He wrote several useful works and was appointed Professor at the College founded by Shāhrukh Mirza, (reign 1407-1447 A.D.) and subsequently went to Bukhāra in 1520 A.D., where he entered the service of its ruler 'Ubaydullāh Khān (reign 1533-1539 A.D.) Brockelmann, GAL I , 318. For other copies see Berlin, 6579 ; Escorial, 17 ; Buhar, II, 384 ; Mingana, 2063. Bankipur, 2063.

The author belonged to "Damāmīn" a place in upper Egypt, vide Yāqūt's Mu'jam al Buldān, II, 585. He was born at Alexandria in 763/1362, came to India and presented this work to Naṣīru'd-Dīn Ahmad Shah (reigned. 1411-1448 A D.) in 824/1421 at Nahrwala now known as Pattan in Baroda. He died of poisoning in Sha'bān, 827 / July, 1424. See Brockelmann, GAL, II, 39. For other copies see Bankipur, 2120 ; Berlin, 6127-28 ; Gotha, 967 ; Escorial, 203 ; Leiden, 217.

This work is a resume in 1,000 verses of the rules of Arabic Grammar based on a large treatise of 3,000 verses. De Sacy published it with a French commentary entitled Alfiyya ou la quintessence de la Grammaire Arabe, Paris, 1833. Brockelmann, GAL, I. 359. According to Muḥammad b. Cheneb, Ibn Mālik must be considered the greatest philologist of the Arabic language whose reputation almost overshadows that of the great Sibawayh by reason of the everlasting service he has rendered to the study of Arabic Grammar by co-ordinating and simplifying the rules. He might justifiably be criticized at times for his lack of clarity of style and simplicity of expression which are so essential for educational works. He was born at Jaen in Spain in 600/1203. After his education at home, he went to the East and studied under well-known scholars like Ibn Ḥājjib, Ibn Ya'ish and Abū 'Alī ash-Shalufīn. After teaching at Aleppo and Ḥamāt, he finally settled at Damascus.

The author writes in the preface that soon after his arrival at Gujarat he found that the Text of al-Wāfi was popular with the students of Arabic, but since there existed no commentary on it, his students requested him to undertake the present work. He had already finished his first work on Grammar which he had dedicated to Ahmad Shāh of Gujarat in 824 / 1421. Then he proceeded to Māhim near Bombay, where he set to work on this treatise in the month of Ramaḍān, 825/Sept. 1422 and finished its rough draft on the 21st. Dhu'l-Hijja, 825 / 7th Dec., 1422. It was at this juncture that our author heard of the great fame of the new Bahmanid ruler Shihābu'd-Dīn Ahmad who had ascended the throne at Gulbarga (Aḥsanābād). He, therefore, travelled to that place where he made a fair copy of it which kept him busy from Ṣafar 23rd 826 A.H./15th June 1423 A.D. to Jumāda I, 826 A.H./24th April, 1423 A.D. All this is made clear in the colophon. He pays high tribute to the new Bahmanid ruler, for the qualities of head and heart which he possessed. He made up his mind to dedicate this work to him.

An important treatise on Arabic. There is also running commentary in Persian on the margin. It was published by J. Baptista Raymundus with a Latin translation in Rome in 1610 A. D. vide : Sarkis, 977. For other copies see Mingana 732 ; Berlin 6615-16 ; Gotha 194 ; Flügel I, 179 ; Aya Sofia, 4643.

174	140 1	The above is the correct title of this rare work. Brockelmann (I. 335) gives this title incorrectly as "Kitābu't-Talqin fi'n-Nahw" being based on misreading.
188	19	This is a work on the science of rhetoric and Arabic style, full of quotations from Ḥamāsa, Abū Nuwās, Mutanabbī and other masters of Arabic poetry. It is divided into two parts—Part I, fols. 2-131, Part II fols. 133-247.
193	1123	This work is a commentary on the poetical quotations found in the Idāh of Muḥammad b. 'Abdu'r-Raḥmān Qazwīnī (d. 739/1338) who incorporated also in its contents the two books of the famous rhetorician al-Jurjānī (d. 474/1081). See Mingana No. 696 ; Brockelmann, S I. 510, where the title is given as Sharḥ ash-Shawāhid (16).

Sl. No.	Accn. No.
211	276	This fuller Commentary was completed by the author in Şafar, 748 / May, 1347 A. D at Herat dedicated to Mu'izzu'd-Din Abu'l-Hasan M. Kait ruler of Herat. He was an authority on Rhetoric, Logic, Metaphysics, Theology and Law. He was born in Şafar, 722/March, 1322 at Taftāzān—a village near Nasā in Khurāsān . He was invited by Taimūr to Samarqand. Brockelmann, II, 278.
213	823	Completed in 640/1242, Brockelmann, I, 373. One MS is at Khedival Library, Cairo; the second is at Mosul, which is incomplete, the third one is at Rampur (I, 567) but I think that it is a different work.
234	762 III	This MS. consists of two different works. I. folios 1—6 contain maxims culled from " Kalīla wa Dimna ", II. folios 7—17 is a work on divination indicatting the premonitions throbbing of the various organs of the human body.
