FOREWORD

The Aligarh Muslim University Library has a collection of more than 12,000 manuscripts in Arabic and Persian, with a few in Urdu and Hindi. The subjects covered are largely medieval Indian history, history of the Afghans in India, belles-lettres, Islamic theology, mysticism and the Unani system of medicine. For want of a catalogue, however, the collection has remained inaccessible to scholars. Sporadic attempts were made over the years in this regard but without success.

It was during the Vice-Chancellorship of our President, Dr. Zakir Husain, that a serious beginning was made and a catalogue, which can more appropriately be described as a hand-list, of Persian manuscripts in history was compiled. Its printing was entrusted to the well-known Baptist Mission Press of Calcutta. It is with feelings of gratification that it is now presented before the world of learning. The compilation of hand-lists of selected manuscripts in other subjects is in progress and will be published as they are ready.

IMPORTANT MANUSCRIPTS DESCRIBED IN THE PRESENT VOLUME

It may be useful to note some of the important and noteworthy manuscripts which are described in the present volume:

- No. 4 Tārīkh-i Guzīda by Ḥamdullāh al-Mustawfī copied in a date earlier than the ninth or tenth century A.H. The manuscript contains five seals including one bearing the name of the famous poet of Akbar's court, Abul Faiz Kāfi, as well as his two autographs.
- No. 36 Ṣubḥ-i Ṣādiq by Mirzā Ṣādiq Isfahānī. The present manuscript is presumably the only complete copy of the third volume which is known to exist.
- No. 52 One of the earliest copies of Mir'āt-i Aflāk-namā by Nawwāb 'Abdur Raḥmān entitled Shāh Nawāz Khān Hāshimī (d. 1222 H.). Copied in the lifetime of the author.
- No. 119 Manāqib-i Muṭaḥarri by Mīr Ṣāliḥ 'Kāshifī' copied in 1147 H. from the author's autograph.
- No. 162 An old copy of the rare work, Tasfiyat al-Ikhwān by 'Aṭā Malik al-Juwainī. This is one of the two manuscripts known to exist. The copy is dated 998 H.
- No. 239 Waqā'i-i Zamān Shāhi. The manuscript is copied by Ḥakīm Muḥammad Aḥsanullāh Khān Deldawī.
- No. 258 Ṭabaqāt-i Nāṣiri. The present manuscript was transcribed in the lifetime of the author in 1003 H. and is the earliest known copy.
- No. 296 One of the earliest copies of Ḥaqīqat-hāi Hindustān by Lachhmī Narāyan 'Shafīq' Aurangābādī (d. 1214 H.). Autograph.
- No. 300 A general history of India down to 1253 H. The author belonged to the family of Amir ul-Umarā Khān-i Daurān Khwāja 'Āṣim (d. 1151 H.). The manuscript has been revised by the author's son.
- No. 349 The present manuscript of Akbar-nāma contains five water-colour illustrations.
- No. 400 A rare history of Shāhjahān's reign by Muḥammad Zāhid written in 1088 H.
- No. 512 An autograph copy of the abridgement of 'Imādus-Sa'ādāt compiled in 1242 H.
- No. 524 Ma'āṣir-i Āṣafī by Lachhmī Narāyan 'Shafīq', copied in 1208 H. in the lifetime of author. Probably autograph.
- No. 562 Rashḥāt-i 'Ain-ul Ḥayāt by 'Alī b. Ḥusain Wā'iz al-Kāshifī (d. 939 H.). The manuscript once belonged to the library of 'Haidar 'Alī (d. 1197 H. 1782) and was purchased after the fall of Mysore.

- No. 625 The present manuscript of Nafā'is ul-Ma'āsir is the earliest known copy and comprises seals and autograph of Mīr Ghulām 'Alī Āzād Bilgrāmī (d. 1200 H.).
- No. 635 Safīna-i Bēkhabar of Mīr 'Azmatullāh 'Bēkhabar' (d. 1142 H.) written in 1141 H. A very valuable manuscript.
- No. 682 Hāl-nāma of Bāyazīd Anṣārī (d. 989 H.). Compiled by 'Alī Muḥammad Qandahārī. Apparently no other manuscript of this work exists.
- No. 692 Apparently author's autograph copy.

(Salam 421 Li)

A deceptive title on the fly-leaf, probably given by some manuscript dealer, has misled Professor L. F. Rushbrook Williams into regarding this section of Ḥabīb us-Siyar as a part of a separate and original work entitled Aḥsan us-Siyar by Mīrzā Barkhwurdār Turkmān.

28

The same as above. Vol. III, juz' 4 and ikhlitām.
